DEDICATION OF SLOVAK HALL

Ceremony Will Take Place in The Presence of Delegates From Many Sections of United States.

Celebration Begins Wednesday With a Street Parade Headed by Band-Committees in Charge.

Slovak enterprise and patriotism, engendered by love of this country and traction will participate in the dedicarages containing mayor Lee and other city officials who will be guests of honor. The societies that will participate are the uniformed rank of the Kosciuzsko Guards Polish Society, St. Peter and St. Paul Russian Society, St. Joseph Catholic Union, No. 19; St. carried first honors.

and later was chartered. It has existed 14 years
On several different occasions it has come before the public at large. In the year 1905 at the World's St. Louis Exposition, a group of this union participated with other world known nations and won honors among them. The 10th anniversary of the union was celebrated all over the country where lodges of the same existed. An instance was is the public demonstration heid by the Bridgeport lodge, in Avon Park. This demonstration was by the united lodges of the state of Connecticut and Massachusetts. Eighty members of the union drilled at this demonstration. There took part the Bridgeport choir, and 50 children with Bridgeport choir, and 50 children with American flags also participated. The officials of the city honored the celebration by their presence.

In the year 1907 the union expended over $3,000 and sent a group of seven American institutions, is to be demonstrated in a most impressive manner on Wednesday of this week, when several thousand citizens of Slavish ex-Szent Marton, as a remembrance from tion of the handsome new hall and gymnasium building that the Slovak group traveled through France and on the symnastic Union Sokol has erected in Hallett street.

This organization is noted for the moral training it has given its young men and for the physical development of its members. Its gymnasts have taken prizes all over the country. In amateur sports its members have made spiendid achievements. The large and commodious new building is going to increase and broaden the activities of the society.

The delegations will begin to arrive in the afternoon. Early in the evening there will be a street parade. Grand Marshal Peter Ruziak, with John Pistey as chief of staff, will form the procession in Berkshire avenue with right resting on Hallett street. The American Band will lead the procession and will be guests of honor. The societies that will participle for the side met a group who waited on them.

An instance which long will live in the memory of the Slovaks and the world at large occurred. Our group, of whom all were citizens of this country, were hampered by the officials of the Hungarian government, mainly for the reason that they carried the American flag. They were also questioned as to their citizenship, and were persecuted. After the festival was over the climax of our group's stay in Europe came, when a member of that group, Polakovic by name, was imprisoned by the officials of the Hungarian government for singing the Slovak national hymn. He was imprisoned something like seven months. But later the American flag was delivered, and now it stands in the Slovak Museum, valued as the most precious gift of the institution.

A WORD of APOLOGY

Never in the three years history of this store have so many people visited our store as did last Saturday. We expected a good crowd,but the number of the people that came to help us make our Anniversary Celebration memorable far exceeded our fondest expectations. The nice Spring weather and mainly the splendid. bargains brought to this store a bigger crowd than we were prepared to handle—and those who did not receive our usual prompt and courteous attention or who could not be waited upon at all - we want to offer our humble apology; but to all that came to join the good natured crowd, to come to get their share of the Anniversary Sale's splendid offerings, we want to offer our heartfelt thanks for their generous patronage.

The Anniversary Sale continues all this week and will get better every day until it ends Saturday night. Read the splendid items. Is it a wonder we are busy?

Mrs. Bridget Flanagan, widow of William McGarry, aged 60 years, was found prostrate on the floor of her home on Spring street, Fairfield, yesterday morning by her sister, Mrs. Edward R. Russell of Southport. Mrs. McGarry was dead and had in all probability succumbed to an attack of apoplexy some time on Saturday.

Medical Examiner W. H. Donaldson of Fairfield viewed the remains and said that death had probably occurred about 48 hours before the remains and said towered. The deceased is survived by three brothers, Edward Flanagan, of Oakland, California; Marcus Flanagan, of Yonkers, N. Y., and James Flanagan, of Bridgeport. Mrs. Russell is the only sister. Mrs. McGarry was well known in Fairfield where she had a host of friends. She was a prominent member of St. Thomas' church and lived a quiet and helpful life.
